Father Mother God,

How important for all of us right now that we follow the light and allow our souls to assist us in seeking our personal and global destiny.

Each one of us illuminates the way through the spark within us especially when there is so much darkness and difficult challenges around us.

Everyone has this inner spark, a speck of star that is more visible in some than in others. When it shines forth it reveals the spark of life that is unique in each soul. There is a spark of life in the destiny of our country and in our world as well.

During this amazing time on our planet we have the opportunity to look at our past personally and globally, and to look at our future as well .... to be willing to be that shining light that shows the way!

The astrological destiny of the United States of America is to be that light that shows the way!

Some people are struggling with anxiety during these changes and the anxiety levels increase as the collective, which moves more slowly, has a sense of being out of control and helpless.

We need to activate the speck of star that's within each of us and every person on our planet... That's within our country and within our world to shine brightly so that we can move forward and compassion, justice and equality.

The more distant we are from the unique spark of life in our soul, the more devastating and isolating the growing uncertainty in the world will seem to be... the more irrational or negative, the more catastrophic events will seem to be.

Even in times of chaos the soul instinctively seeks to awaken and grow the new pattern that the old woman is weaving. As she weaves her golden thread into her new design, our choices become more meaningful even when seemingly limited by outside circumstances.

We all have something to give from our inner spark and when the world around us becomes increasingly uncertain, it becomes more and more essential for us to live that adventure and share our spark of light.

We all have something to give from our inner spark and when the world around us becomes increasingly uncertain, it becomes more and more essential for us to live that adventure and share our spark of light...

Our speck of star!
